ON ELECTION DAY. Street Car Men and Other Tollers to Work for Henry George-The Labor Candidate for Mayor Says Hewitt's Reply to Paragraphs. New YORK, Oct. 22.-The Times Thursday morning says: "A rumer was circulated Wednesday that all the surface and elevated roads in the city would be tied up on election lay and most of the shape and factories closed in order that the laboring men might show their power. It was said that the men who took a day off would take possession of the polls early in the marning, and would eather intimidate voters who were not in favor of Henry George or manage to keep them outside the polling-places until their patience was exhausted and they were compelled to hurry away to their places of busiss without voting.

Some of the leaders of the George move ment pooh-peohed the rumor as ridiculous and without foundation, but it was admitted that something of the kind had been talked about several days ago. It was stated on authority that two or three days before elecion the car-drivers and conductors and rain-guards would gok the milroad comsations to make such arrangements that they ought be able to go off in batches to vote laring the day, as it had been ascertained that the companies were opposed to George and would try to prevent the mon-from going to the polls. The throat rouble with which he is affected, and which esembles that which killed Gen Grant, is regarded by his doctors as incurable, and they have told him so. The operation which was performed in Philadelphia last Sunday was not successful, and it is thought that he will live only as long as he can light the disease. His strong physique is in his favor. He is very cheerful and as genial as ever, but his wife says that this is for the sake of his family, and that at his heart he realizes the fatality of the disease. He has given up lecturing and will probably make no more public speeches. Dr. J. S. Bichardson, Col. Ingresol's physician, denies emphatically that his distinguished patient's condition is critical.
